

History

2013

- 2011 city Safety cameras installed for Rugby World Cup
- Police approach ICW for volunteers to monitor the cameras and they respond immediately.
- Under the leadership of ICW committee members David and Sarah Webb, Camera Base Wellington is established.

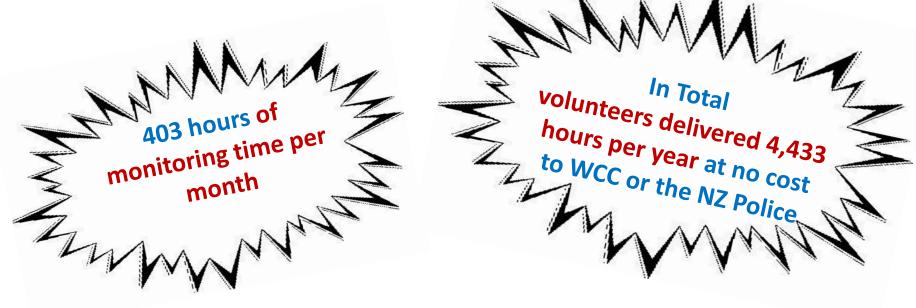

2015

- By 2015 volunteer coordinator role had become unsustainable.
- David approached Police and WCC management.
- Paid Camera Base Co-ordinator position established to oversee the 40+ volunteers.

2015 - 2020

Over the next 5 years volunteers donated:

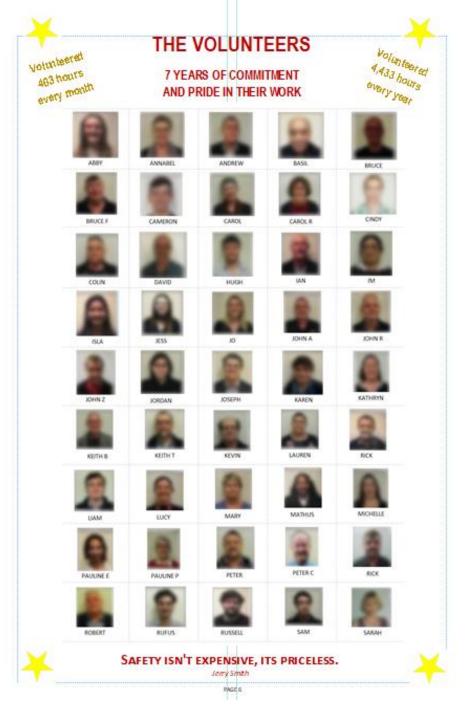

- 3-hour shifts.
- Daytime and nights, including weekends.
- Volunteers worked in pairs on core shifts Friday and Saturday nights until 4.30am the following morning.

2020

On 12 March, without any prior discussion or advanced warning with the Coordinators or ICW, WCC closed Camera Base.

ICW Recommends

1. The Dunedin model

- Council owns and maintains the camera system
- Police monitor cameras and record events (with volunteer assistance)

or

2. The Lower Hutt model

- a Trust owns and maintains the camera system
- Police volunteers monitor cameras and record events

Questions?

The best way to protect both the policemen and the community going forward is by creating a system that's just, where everyone feels safe.
